MOONKIZ SIGNATURE

It claims that bubble tea was invented in 1986 when teahouse owner Tu Tsong-he was inspired by white tapioca balls he saw in the local market of Ah-bó-liáu (鴨母寮, or Yāmŭliáo in Mandarin). He later made tea using these traditional Taiwanese snacks. This resulted in what is known as "pearl tea".

BINGSU

Bingsu (빙수) has a long history in Korea, dating back as early as the Joseon dynasty, which began in 1392. Seokbinggo, meaning “stone ice storage,” was effectively an ice warehouse made of rocks, and was the key to Korea’s ability to have ice in the middle of summer.

VEGAN 모찌 타 이야키

It is essentially a reshaped form of imagawayaki, an already popular snack made by wrapping bean paste in flour skin. Seijirō Kobe, founder of the store Naniwaya Sōhonten (浪花家総本店), was having trouble selling his imagawayaki, so he decided to bake the cakes into fish shapes resembling tai, or red sea bream.

SANDOS

★ ★ ★
산도스

It is a Japanese take on the Western sandwich, based on fluffy shokupan (소쿠ปัง). The sando stands out for its simplicity and balance of ingredients, making it a beloved comfort food that blends Western influences with Japanese aesthetics and meticulous attention to detail.
